

Tarang is a quarterly digital magazine from a 15 year young Hyderabad based non profit organization – Sanskriti Foundation, whose mission is to promote Indian Art, Culture and Values.

5

Editions Out

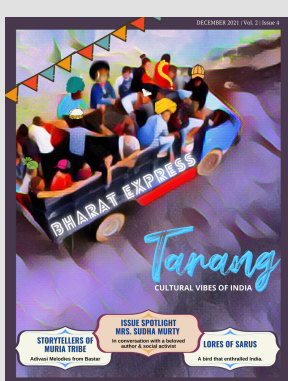

2,000

Average Reads

Our readers join us as we traverse through our roots with joy, curiosity and honesty.

Best read on a large screen, you can enjoy previous editions by clicking these links. Mobile optimised articles are available below the magazine reader.

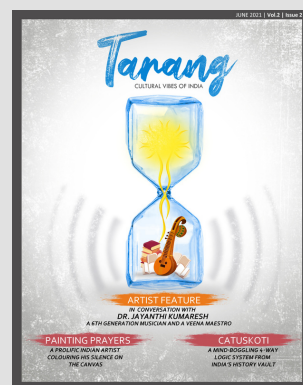

Watch Trailer

Edition 5

Edition 4

Edition 3

“

A young magazine devoted completely to the arts. Those who like to dwell beyond, do take a look at the entire magazine & its rich content.

- Odissi Dancer, Arushi Mudgal

Recommend every student of music and art rasika to read this beautifully curated magazine covering a gamut of topics!

- Veena Maestro, Jayanthi Kumaresh

Beautifully laid out. I especially loved the article on our ancient games.

- Reddit Reader

Whoa what a magazine! Much needed effort. Also great interview!

- Facebook Reader

”

We'd love for you to contribute an article towards

Music & Arts

Culture & Tradition

History & Heritage

editor.tarang@gmail.com or DM us @

As Tarang is digital, If you like, you can contribute a mixed media article which include videos, illustrations, photos and text.

Our team consists of classical music students who are working professionals across the globe and include a Doctoral Student in Cognitive Science. The team reviews articles for quality and grammar. Designed articles are shared with the author for revisions and confirmation before publishing.

LET'S SHINE OUR INDIAN VIBES BRIGHTER.

